The screenshot shows the IBM Cloud Watson Assistant catalog page. The main heading is "Watson Assistant" with a subtext: "Watson Assistant lets you build conversational interfaces into any application, device, or channel." Below this, there are tabs for "Create" and "About". The "Create" tab is active, showing a form to select a location and a pricing plan. The location is set to "Sydney (au-syd)". The pricing plan is "Lite", which is described as "Everything you need to get started, free for as long as you need it. Up to 1,000 unique monthly active users (MAUs)". The pricing is listed as "Free". On the right side, there is a "Summary" section with the following details: "Watson Assistant", "Location: Sydney", "Plan: Lite", "Service name: Watson Assistant-jd", and "Resource group: Default". Below the summary, there is a checkbox for "I have read and agree to the following license agreements:" with a link to "Terms". At the bottom of the form, there are buttons for "Create" and "Add to estimate".

Plan	Features	Pricing
Lite	Everything you need to get started, free for as long as you need it. Up to 1,000 unique monthly active users (MAUs)	Free

The screenshot shows the "Welcome to the new Watson Assistant" page. The main heading is "Welcome to the new Watson Assistant" with a "Next" button. Below this, there is a section titled "Create your first assistant" with a subtext: "Let's get your assistant up and running. Name your assistant, add a description, and choose a language. In following steps we'll gather more information, show you basic customizations, and give you a preview of what your assistant will look like." Below this, there is a form to create a new assistant. The "Assistant name" field is labeled "Skill Bot". Below the name field, there is a note: "Your assistant name will be kept internally and not visible to your customers". The "Description (optional)" field is labeled "Add a description for this assistant". The description field has a character count of "0/128".

Welcome, you're in the new Watson Assistant!
